

Diabetes Mellitus a “pandemia” Between 299 and 380 million world-wide...

... this is what experts estimate the number of people suffering from diabetes will rise to by 2025. In Germany alone the total number of cases is expected to be approx. 10 million in 2010. 14 November is the annual World Diabetes Day. This is the birthday of Frederick G. Banting, who together with Charles Best developed the ideas that resulted in the discovery of insulin, saving the lives of millions of diabetics.
